STREET CAR STRIKES AUTO TWO COSHOCTON PEOPLE HAVE MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

T. L. MONTGOMERY AND MOTHER IN ACCIDENT AT MT. VERNON SUNDAY

Auto and Surface Car Collide at Grade Crossing in the Dark — Machine is Sideswiped, Lifted From Ground and Wrecked — Occupants All Escape Injury — Had Been Visiting Mr. Montgomery's Wife at Sanatorium — Motorman Didn't See Auto Party.

T. L. Montgomery of this city and his mother, Mrs. M. A. Montgomery of Newark had a harrowing experience at Mt. Vernon Sunday evening while returning to that city from the sanatorium, when their automobile was struck by a street car at a grade crossing, completely wrecking the automobile. Mr. Montgomery returned home Sunday night. That the three occupants of the automobile were not killed outright seems a miracle.

Visited Sanatorium. Mr. Montgomery and his mother visited with Mrs. T. L. Montgomery who is confined in the Mt. Vernon sanatorium a few miles out of the city. Mr. Montgomery chartered a motor car to take him and his mother to the sanatorium. They started to return to the city at about 5:45.

It was dark and the chauffeur of the auto had not yet lighted his headlights. The roads were muddy and the chauffeur left the main highway to go down a side street so that they could reach a paved street. The side street crossed the street car tracks.

Auto Is Struck. As the automobile reached the grade crossing a big street car, going at a tremendous rate of speed, crossed striking the automobile fairly, about three feet back from the front of the hood.

The street was slippery and the automobile was thrown around so that the rear end struck the street car, the two sideswiping. The automobile was lifted entirely off the ground and pitched a few feet in the air. It fell right-side-up, luckily. Neither Mr. Montgomery, his mother, nor the chauffeur were even thrown from their seats in the car. They escaped without a scratch.

The street car was going so fast that it ran for fully half a city block before the motorman could stop it.

Escaped Unharmed. Thinking that someone had been killed in the collision the motorman and the passengers in the car jumped out and ran back to the crossing where they found the automobile partly frightened but unharmed trying to patch up the machine.

Mr. Montgomery said that the side street on which they were riding was densely lined with trees bearing thick foliage and it was impossible to see the approach of the cars.

The automobile was almost totally wrecked.

HOLY WAR STARTED BY TURKS

All Christians Put to Death
By Excited Tribesmen.

ROME, Oct. 23.—The dreaded holy war in Tripoli has been begun by Bedouin tribesmen, according to advices received here today. Dispatches report that savage tribesmen, worked into fury by the play which the Turks have made upon their religious sentiments by declaring that Italy's aggression is merely the forerunner of the movement to blot out Mohammedanism and force Christianity upon them, have massacred one hundred persons at and near Benghazi, including two priests.

The clerics murdered were the Rev. Father Umberto, director of the Catholic mission, and the Rev. Father Joseph. Father Joseph was acting as the guardian of several hundred slave children who had been liberated by Italians, when he was killed.

These advices stated that the massacre started just before the Italians bombarded Benghazi and that their bloody work was temporarily interrupted by the occupation of the city by the Italian forces.

They have declared their purpose to take no prisoners but to put to the sword every Christian that falls into their power. It is further reported.

Scared at Birdmen

Tripoli, Oct. 23.—Italians occupying Tripoli are meeting with striking success in the first practical use of aeroplanes in war.

Capt. Piazza, operator of a military Blériot is in charge of the aerial scouting parties. The natives and Turkish marauders in the hills south of the city were stricken with terror at the sight of the flying machines and fled in panic whenever one came into view. Sapper Moiza who operates a Newport machine was ordered to make a reconnaissance south of the city today.

Mountain camps secured 30,000 when they held up D. F. Drury, paymaster for Lane Brothers, contractors, in Breathitt county, Ky.

EMPEROR IS READY TO FLEE

Japan Rumor Says Chinese Prince Prepares to Fly.

Tokio, Oct. 23.—A sensational report that the infant Emperor of China had been taken on board an imperial gunboat for flight in the event the Chinese rebels capture the capital, was circulated here today.

The prince regent has not attended cabinet meetings in Peking for two days. His absence has been the source of sensational conjectures in this city, even giving rise to reports that he is dead. These utterly lack confirmation and apparently have no better foundation than gossip.

Got an American

Hong Kong, Oct. 23.—Chinese rebels at I-Chang are detaining E. C. Parker, the U. S. consul to Chungking, who was intercepted at I-Chang by rebels who feared that he might suffer at the hands of detached rebel bands. If he continued on his journey in the present state of conditions fighting is reported to be in progress about Canton. The Chinese cruiser Hai-Tchen is remaining here awaiting orders.

STRIKE WILL SPREAD

Trainmen and Conductors Vote to Help Harriman Shipmen.

Galveston, Tex., Oct. 23.—The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and Order of Railway Conductors on the Harriman lines have voted to go on strike with the crafts of shipmen now out on strike. Notice will be served on the railway officials and it is expected the date will be set for Nov. 1. Three other organizations, the brotherhoods of engineers and firemen and Order of Telegraphers, are now voting on the same proposition, and it is expected all the organizations will go in with the shipmen unless the latter's grievances are settled.

There are about 6,000 men in the trainmen's unions on the Texas lines and lines from here to California.

FISH

May Get Warden of Pen in Trouble Before Probe Ends

Columbus, O., Oct. 23.—The penitentiary probe was resumed in the attorney general's office today by Attorney General Hogan and Assistant Attorney General Joseph McGhee.

Mr. Hogan began the hearing by calling upon clerks of the American Express Co., who handled the shipments of fish for the penitentiary, to show the amount of fish delivered to the pen each day according to their books. Warden Jones was invited to listen to the testimony, and Attorney General Hogan said Jones would be placed on the stand before the day was over.

WALSH IS DEAD

Aged Chicago Banker, Recently Freed, Expires Suddenly

Chicago, Oct. 23.—John R. Walsh died suddenly of heart disease at 5:25 this morning.

Walsh recently was released from Leavenworth penitentiary to which he was sentenced for wrecking three Chicago banks. Although the former banker had been in feeble health since his parole from the penitentiary, not even the death of his family believed his release was so near. Months before his release his health began to fail. The fear that he might die in prison spurred his family and his lawyers to even more strenuous efforts to obtain a parole for Walsh.

PASTOR SAYS RIVAL DID IT

Man Held for Murder of Boston Girl to Establish Alibi.

Boston, Oct. 23.—Notwithstanding the assertion of the police that they will be able to prove that the Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson killed Avis Linnell, his former sweetheart, it was learned today that the minister expects to secure his acquittal by offering a complete alibi, and claiming that a rival poisoned the young woman.

Boston, Oct. 23.—Professor Charles Bennett of the New England Conservatory of Music, who was Miss Avis Linnell's voice instructor, was interviewed by police at headquarters. The Rev. C. V. T. Richeson spent the day quietly in his cell in the Charles Street jail, reading the newspapers and his Bible. N. E. Hewes of Cambridge, who attended the Immanuel Baptist church, called at the jail, but said he had no particular reason for trying to see Richeson except to assure him of his confidence that he would be acquitted. During the day a woman evangelist, accompanied by a boy violinist, were admitted to the jail, and Richeson as well as the other prisoners heard her sing half a dozen psalms, accompanied by herself on the piano, while the boy wielded the bow.

Did Not Mention Crime.

The Rev. Dr. George Cross, professor of systematic theology with the Newton Theological seminary, where Richeson was educated for the ministry, occupied the pulpit at both the morning and evening services in Immanuel. Dr. Cross said nothing during the services which could by inference draw the attention of his hearers to the predicament of the regular pastor. There was no unusual crowd at the church. Many stopped after the service to discuss Richeson's case. Some expressed the utmost confidence in the clergyman's innocence, while there were others who admitted that they were entirely at sea in the matter, not being able to reconcile his alleged ill treatment of the Linnell girl with the duties of a Christian man or to understand why he should have purchased cyanide of potassium, as Druggist Hahn says he did.

HAD THE HABIT BAD

Richeson's Record One Long String of Engagements.

New York, Oct. 23.—The Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson was reported to be engaged to a young woman in or near Haverhill, Mass., two years ago, according to the story told to Miss Helen Margaret Crosby, a junior at Barnard college and a close school friend of Avis Linnell. A young woman from the neighborhood of Haverhill and also a Barnard student, on meeting Miss Crosby at the college one day and learning that she was from Hyannis, asked if she knew Richeson. Miss Crosby said that she had met him a few times as the fiance of her friend, Miss Linnell. The other student then told of Richeson's coming to Haverhill for a two or three weeks' stay two years ago and of his meeting there, or in Georgetown, near by, a young girl. The two became very close friends, according to the story told Miss Crosby, and when Richeson left after his short stay it was understood by the young woman's friends that she was engaged to be married to the minister.

Young Men Jealous.

There was considerable interest shown in the good-looking minister when he first came to Hyannis, particularly among the younger women. He was extremely affable, particularly to the women of the town. Miss Linnell was one of the popular girls in the neighborhood and was in much demand by the young men when there was any social function afoot. These young men did not take it at all kindly when the minister began paying such marked attention to Avis Linnell, for one reason because they considered him too old for her; for another, because they did not consider him good enough for her; and naturally because the affair threatened to take from the younger set of the township one of its most popular girls. The young men and women friends of Miss Linnell considered Richeson an outsider and an intruder.

Engaged to Three at Once.

Kansas City, Oct. 23.—The Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson, held in Boston on a charge of murdering Miss Avis Linnell, was pastor of the Bethany Baptist church in this city from 1901 to 1904, when he resigned by request, following the sensational disclosure of three young women, each of whom accused him of being engaged to her.

THEY SAY HE TRIED TO PUT STAR IN BAD

Fred Snodgrass the Giant center-fielder who has been the storm center of attack by Philadelphia fans who have accused him of deliberately spiking "Home Run" Baker at the third game of the world's championship series held at the Polo Grounds, New York City. Snodgrass denies the charge and said that the spiking was done accidentally in the course of the game when he slid for the base.

RAIN HAS AGAIN PUT STOP TO IT

Fifth Consecutive Time For Delty of World's Series Game.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 23.—Today's game between the Giants and the Athletics in the world's series was postponed for the fifth consecutive time on account of wet grounds.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 23.—Weather sharps early today predicted that the backbone of the continuous rain storm which caused four successive postponements of the fourth game in the world's series between the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Athletics, had been broken. At 8 a.m. the weather was clearing and it was growing colder. A brisk northwestern wind was sweeping Shibe park and was drying out the rain soaked soggy field, but whether it would be in condition to play on this afternoon was then extremely doubtful.

Although the Giants hurried to Philadelphia from New York last night and were again quartered at the Majestic hotel, Manager McGraw was fearful that there would be no game today. The grounds then were thoroughly soaked and the mud was almost ankle deep.

The long series of postponements has put a damper on the fevered interest in the series and betting has reached a standstill.

Chief Bender and Mathewson have been slated as the opposing pitchers in the fourth game. Both twirlers are in excellent condition for duel to the death.

Four days of continuous idleness have not tended to keep the players limbered up and what little exercise the men have been able to get has been snatched between raindrops. McGraw issued orders that, if today's game were postponed for the Giants to assemble at the park of the Philadelphia of the National league for a strenuous session of practice.

Joe Schroeder, the Athletics ground-keeper, is a busy man. He has had the infield and outfield soaked with oil and several tons of sand have been dumped into the low spots.

Third baseman J. Franklin Baker has the Athletics with the home run habit has recovered from the spiking he received at the foot of Centerfielder Snodgrass of the New York team, and the long halt in the series has had the good effect of partly offsetting the damage caused by the Snodgrass Baker incident.

Catch Fishes by Scud.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 23.—A discovery that was worth millions of dollars saved each year by fishermen is that of George H. Parker, a Harvard professor, who has found that certain fish attract each other by noises, especially during the mating season, and that hence they may perhaps be called to the angler's net by the beating of a drum or tom-tom as moose are called with a birch bark horn or quail or turkeys by a whistle.

YOUTH CONFESSES TO THEFT OF A DIAMOND FROM SEIGRIST HOME

Woman Left Ring on Back Porch For Few Minutes And It Disappears — Police Catch Alleged Thief and Latter Tells Solicitor Adams Frankly of His Guilt — Ring Returned.

After Chief Williams of the local police force had arrested a young man aged about 19, the boy made a confession of having stolen a $25 diamond ring from the back porch at the home of George Siegrist on North Second-st. Monday morning. He is confined in the city jail awaiting a disposition of the case. He is charged with petit larceny.

Miss Siegrist removed the ring from her finger early Monday morning while washing. She placed it on a small bracket just above the refrigerator near the door leading to her kitchen. She left the porch and went into the house. A few minutes later she saw a man pass the window and walk up on the back porch. She did not go to the door. Later in the morning she thought of her ring and went to where she had placed it and found it gone. The police were at once notified and a description furnished by Mrs. Siegrist.

After searching the city Chief Williams found the young man and placed him under arrest.

Solicitor Adams went to the city prison.

"Were you down on Second street this morning," asked the solicitor.

"Yes," said the prisoner.

"Did you notice any rings laying on the bracket on the back porch of the Siegrist home?" was the next question, fired at the youth to which he replied in the affirmative.

"Now didn't you take a band ring with a small diamond set in it?"

"Yes," promptly answered the boy.

"Where is it?" queried Mr. Adams.

"In my pocket," was the brief answer and with it he plunged his hand in his trousers pocket and produced the ring which was returned to the owner. The boy was returned to the "cooler."

McNamara Trial On Third Week With No Jury

Defense Blamed For Story Circulated That Ortie McManigal Weakened in Determination to Support the State — Six Jurors Idling Time While Others Are Examined.

TIME TABLE OF THE McNAMARA TRIAL

Second week, number of days in session, five.

Work accomplished. Fourteen talesmen examined by defense. Twelve examined by state.

Three men passed by both sides, for cause now subject to peremptory challenge.

Three more called, not yet excused. Ruling on their cases expected today.

Six empty seats in jury box. Expected one of those passed will be on jury.

Los Angeles, Calif., Oct. 23.—The trial of James B. McNamara today began its third week. The tedious task of selecting the jurors which already has taken up two weeks of the court's sessions was still hardly begun. Six seats in the jury box were vacant.

Three men now among the prospective jurors awaited a ruling of the court to determine whether they should sit longer in the courtroom or go back to their every day affairs.

Other men, forced to come day after day into the court, waited for the clerk to put his hand into the little safe deposit box that he carried out the steps with the names of veniremen, thus by chance, filling the jury box again. Many of the veniremen hoped they might be among those chosen and that the attorneys, waiting to begin again the questions that would take new men over the old, old ground that nearly two dozen have already been examined upon, would find cause to let them leave the court and go back to their own homes and ways of life. The attorneys were waiting eagerly for the ruling of Judge Walter N. Borah that will show what questions to emphasize in the examination of the waiting men. Jas. B. McNamara himself, accused of murder through the alleged dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building, a little more than a year ago, was waiting rather impatiently for the selection of the men who will hear the story that the prosecution will unfold and the other stories that will be told by the defense and pass final judgment upon him. Every one was waiting.

Of all those who waited for the day's session to begin, the six men, who have loitered through two days of idleness without even the questioning of their sitted lawyers to break the monotony, were most anxious. Although an automobile ride and a theatre "paris" at which deputy sheriffs were the hosts had been given to break the monotony of the two days of near imprisonment the men were restless and anxious that the court proceedings proceed with as much rapidity as possible.

Among the attorneys the matter of first importance was the impending decisions of Judge Bordwell. Three cases were under advisement. The one in which the defense felt keenest interest was the challenge of E. C. Robinson, given by the state and resisted by the defense on which the court had already ruled, refusing to dismiss the venireman. He agreed however, at the urgent solicitation of the state to study the record carefully for an error in law or his ruling on fact. It was expected that this would be decided early at today's session.

Rulings in two other cases, those of George W. McKee, challenged early during last week's examination by the state and A. R. McIntosh, challenged Friday by the state, were also expected. The decision in these cases, it was expected, would be such that the attorneys on both sides would know in what grounds the prospective jurors should be most carefully questioned.

The two days that have elapsed since the close of court Friday have not been idle for the attorneys. The work of gathering and selecting evidence has gone steadily forward. Current stories that Ortie McManigal has weakened in his determination to support the state, called for careful consideration on both sides. The prosecution has denied truth of the rumors.

Detective Malcolm McLaren, one of the Burns men here, denied the story, saying the defense was responsible for it.

"McManigal," he asserted, "is growing stronger instead of weaker physically and mentally. When he was brought here last spring he weighed 175 pounds, and today he tips the scale at 185. That shows he is growing stronger physically. If a man gets weak mentally he gets weak physically. It is all nonsense to say he is weakening as far as the state is concerned. The defense would like to see it happen but it never will."

McLaren spends most of his time in court during the sessions. He frequently holds whispered consultations with District Attorney Fredericks behind whose chair he sits.

Neither defense nor state were optimistic today about the length of time that would be required to get a jury.

Driver Killed.

Columbus, O., Oct. 23.—A Clatts, aged 30, a milk wagon driver, was killed today when a southbound Steelton car hit his milk wagon. The wagon was demolished but the horse escaped unhurt.

PASTOR RUSSELL'S SUNDAY SERMON

God's Longer Days
A Thousand Years

"A thousand years in Thy sight are but as yesterday."—"A day with the Lord is as a thousand years."—Psalm xc. 4; II Peter III. 8.

London Tabernacle, Lancaster Gate, W., Oct. 22.—Pastor Russell spoke here twice today to large audiences. We report one of the discourses which treated on the difference between human and Divine standards of measurement. He said in part:—

From the Divine viewpoint, earth's history, from Adam's day until now, is merely the Seventh Day or Sabbath of a thousand years. "The day of Christ," "the last day," "the day of judgment," or "the day of the world," is the day in which "every knee shall bow and every tongue confess to the glory of God" the day in which "the righteous shall flourish and the evil-doers shall be cut off" in the Second Death, the day during which God will "pour out His Spirit upon all flesh," as He now grants it to His servants and His handmaidens.

In the Divinely-arranged custom of the Jews the new day began at sunset. Thus we are in the evening or beginning of the great Seventh Day of the Divine Week—the day which means so much of blessing, uplifting, privilege, opportunity of Divine favor to our race through Messiah's glorious Kingdom, which throughout this Seventh Day will reign "from sea to sea and from river to the ends of the earth," putting down everything contrary to the Divine standard and uplifting the world of mankind (brought with the precious blood at Calvary) from sin, meanness, degradation and the tomb—up, up, up, step by step to human perfection in a world-wide Eden.

"Six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work but the Seventh is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God. In it thou shalt not do any work." Whoever reads carefully, intelligently, the pages of history, must be struck with the working energy which has been manifested by our race and is still being manifested. The pyramids and the ruins of ancient cities, and civilization, all tell us of the ceaseless struggle of humanity against the adverse conditions prevailing in the earth, including the strife against sickness and death, and by a few a noble fight against sin and further degradation.

Next the Lesson of Good.
The forbidden fruit of Eden was from the tree of the knowledge of good and evil. Doubtless the Creator would eventually have given a full knowledge of both good and evil to our first parents. They were merely forbidden an immediate plunge into knowledge to their own disadvantage. Craving knowledge before its day (time, Mother Eve disobeyed her Maker and enticed her husband into disobedience. The result has been that instead of learning the philosophy of good at first and of evil later, they and their race have been precipitated into lessons respecting evil first, with the knowledge of good to come latter.

The holy angels, who, have never transgressed the Divine Law, have continually the lesson of good—an appreciation of the Divine character, the principles of righteousness, etc. Those lessons in respect to evil they are gaining by observation instead of by experience—the way recommended to our first parents by the Creator, but in their ignorance rejected.

But God foreknew the course which His human children would take under the influence of temptation; He foreknew that they would fall into sin and therefore would experience its penalty, sorrow, pain and death. While His eye has pitied His poor creatures for six thousand years nevertheless He has allowed this great original Plan of the Ages to move along slowly to a grand climax.

That climax in human affairs, we believe, is near at hand. It marks a great change in Dispensation. The six thousand years, the reign of sin and death, are to be completed by a terrible time of trouble which might not improperly be termed natural result of human selfishness (sin) operating under the influence of the great principles of the New Dispensation now ushering in. Selfishness, as represented in the accumulated financial power and energy trusts and combines, is about to come into conflict with selfishness (sin), represented in the combining forces of humanity, labor unions, etc. The head-on collision which thinking people foresee, and which the Scriptures graphically portray, will give to society an earthquake shock; the graphic picture is a world-conflagration which will involve the "heavens," or ecclesiastical powers, as well as the "earth," or social system, and the "mountains," or kingdoms of the world.

God Has Not Neglected Us

From this Divine viewpoint God is not slack concerning His promises. Only six days of the week have yet passed. The glorious Seventh Day in which the great Mediator between God and men will assume His Kingdom powers is just at hand. Instead of thinking that God is neglecting and forgetting to fulfill the Messianic promises, we should with the eyes of faith realize that He is working all things according to the counsel of His own will. We should consider the matter from the standpoint that God has exercised great patience with humanity in not blotting out the race; He has been long-suffering. And this assures us that the Unchangeable One would prefer that none of His creatures should perish in death, but rather that all, if they would, might turn unto Him and live.—II Peter III. 9; Ezekiel xxxiii. 11.

The great opportunity for the masses of our race to turn to the Lord and to attain everlasting life will be after the darkness shall have passed, when the Sun of Righteousness shall be shining forth, after the highway of holiness shall have taken the place of the board road to destruction, after Messiah, the great King, shall have dethroned Satan, the Prince of Darkness, from the world's control, after the Prince of Peace shall have established peace upon a proper basis. Who cannot sing heartily with the poet, "A thousand years, earth's coming glory," "Is the glad day so long foretold," "Is the glad morn of Zion's glory," "Prophets forswore in times of old?"

Ends Life With Acid.

Lima, O., Oct. 23.—Asking for some stationery upon which he might write a letter, William Walker, 27, who came here from Chicago five weeks ago, wrote a message to his mother, Mrs. Mary Rhodes, in St. Louis, in a local undertaking establishment. He then swallowed two ounces of carbolic acid before employees of the place could prevent him, and died almost instantly. The letter to his mother said: "The writer was tired of life."

CAUSE FOR ALARM

Loss of Appetite or Distress After Eating a Symptom That Should not Be Disregarded.

Appetite is just a natural desire for food. Loss of appetite or stomach distress after eating indicate indigestion or dyspepsia. Over-eating is a habit very dangerous to a person's good general health.

It is not what you eat but what you digest and assimilate that does you good. Some of the strongest, healthiest, and healthiest persons are moderate eaters.

There is nothing that will cause more trouble than a disordered stomach, and many people daily contract serious maladies simply through disregard or abuse of the stomach.

We urge all in Coshocton who suffer from any stomach derangement, indigestion or dyspepsia, whether acute or chronic, to try Revall's Dyspepsia Tablets, with the distinct understanding that we will refund their money without question or formality, if after reasonable use of this medicine, they are not perfectly satisfied with the results.

We recommend them to our customers every day, and have yet to hear of any one who has not been benefited by them. We honestly believe them to be without equal. They give very prompt relief, aiding to neutralize the gastric juices, strengthen the digestive organs, to regulate the bowels, and thus to promote perfect nutrition and eradicate all unhealthy symptoms.

We urge you to try a 25¢ box of Revall's Dyspepsia Tablets, which gives 15 days' treatment. At the end of that time, your money will be refunded to you if you are not satisfied. Of course, in chronic cases length of treatment varies. For such cases, we have two larger sizes, which sell for 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Revall's Remedies in this community only at our store—The Revall Store, Siegrist & Williams.

I suffered severely from my kidneys and bladder for over a year and finally I became so bad I could not turn in bed and had to have help. I was obliged to arise very often in the night. I sent for a free sample bottle of your Swamp-Root and I was never more surprised in my life to receive so much help from such a small quantity of medicine. After taking Swamp-Root for some time I began to gain in weight and my nervousness and dizziness also disappeared. I am now in my sixty-eighth year and very few people of my age enjoy as good health as I am now enjoying as a result of using your great medicine Swamp-Root. I cannot recommend it too highly.

REBELS KILLED BY HUNDREDS

Chinese Admirals Give Out Their Version of Flight.

Peking, Oct. 23.—There has been a sudden relaxation in the censorship and the full text of a joint dispatch from Admirals Jui-Cheng and Sahn-Chen-Ping, in command of the warships of Hankow, is published in the Chinese newspapers. It follows:

"As the second installment of the Tientsin troop arrived at the river station they were attacked by from 2,000 to 3,000 rebels. General Chang Piao led the troops from Hunan, Huper and Honan, killing 200 to 300 rebels. They also captured six big guns and numerous other weapons. More than 20 loyalist troops were killed.

"Simultaneously Admiral Shah ordered the fleet to protect the river bank and to prevent reinforcements coming from Wuchang. The warships, however, were unable to participate in the fighting, being afraid of hitting loyal troops.

"Chang Piao recaptured the station, but had so many men wounded that he was unable to retain it.

"The fleet is without coal or rice. We can only appeal to the throne to send Yin Tehang immediately with artillery."

MANCHUS SCARCE ARTICLE

Not Enough in China to Make Terrible Massacre Possible.

San Francisco, Oct. 23.—On the floor of the Imperial Chinese consulate the Chinese revolutionist leaders posted a proclamation calling on all Chinese loyal to the revolution to cut off their queues at once or they would not be known as revolutionists. It is understood that the notice was the result of instructions given by the leaders of the revolution in China.

Ton Lu, who until a few months ago was dean of the Commercial college in Hankow, says that reports of the massacre of thousands of Manchus at Hankow are impossible. He said:

"In the whole district surrounding Hankow there are not more than 100 Manchus, including men, women and children. In the imperial army which fought against the revolutionists there are perhaps a dozen or so leaders who are Manchus, all the rest being residents of the various provinces. The story of the massacre must have been sent out by the imperial authorities to discredit the cause of the revolutionists."

A RELIGIOUS THOUGHT FOR THIS WEEK

To an attentive congregation the Rev. Frank Albans, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, preached a strong sermon Sunday night on "the spirit of God." Jerusalem, he quoted, could only be rebuilt by the spirit of God and not by strong armies. No reforms, no great works, he declared, are achieved other than by the spirit of God. Armies will not do it. Force will not. Power is all right, but that alone will not win. Victories achieved through force are fleeting. Great changes in a people, placing them on a higher moral plane, are never achieved through force, but solely by the spirit of God. It is love that wins, not force.

SUFFRAGETTE WHO IS GETTING MAN'S EXPERIENCE

The Countess of Warwick a suffragette leader narrowly escaped being in a London court her financial straits, when a suit for $200,000 brought by a Lord in a sensational case up for a hearing. At Paines the publican demanded her money from the Countess lent on her note. Powerful influences caused the temporary postponement of the promise of the Countess to dispose of a portion of the Warwick estates possibly even the historic Warwick Castle in square her debts.

Coal Smoke Corrodes Wires Of Telephone and Telegraph Systems.

Few people realize that in the proximity of a railroad, telephone and telegraph wires last only about a third of the time they last in other localities—all due to the corrosive action of the smoke. Phone wires in Coshocton between Third and Seventh streets last about three years; in other parts of town and in the country, a zinc wire will last ten years. The "expense zone" of the local phone and telegraph companies lies along the tracks of the Pennsylvania.

BIG RACE WAR IS THREATENED

Negroes at Coweta, Okla., Enraged Over Lynching

Coweta, Okla., Oct. 23.—J. D. Beavers, city attorney, was killed; two other white men were wounded, probably fatally and two negroes were shot in a battle here between blacks and whites. Ed Suddeth, the negro who killed Beavers, was killed by a mob as he was being lifted into an automobile which was to take him to the jail in Wagoner. He was riddled with bullets, probably 50 shots taking effect in his body. Negroes are arriving from the surrounding country and an outbreak appears to be inevitable.

The wounded white men are Carmen Oliver and Sellar Thompson. Both were shot through the body and have little chance to live.

The trouble started when a telegraph operator named Swazer was walking with a young woman, Ed Ruse, a negro, in passing, pushed the girl from the sidewalk into the mud. Swazer struck the negro and another, white man, whose name is being kept secret, seized Ruse and Swazer beat him with his fists.

Ruse started out with a long knife in his pocket seeking the man who held him. City Marshal Hart ordered the negro to give up the knife and Ruse shot at him.

Suddeth Gets In Game.

At that instant Ed Suddeth ran out of a house across the street and opened fire, instantly killing City Attorney Beavers and wounding Oliver and Thompson, all of whom were passing at the time and had taken no part in the trouble.

Suddeth took refuge in a nearby house, which was bombarded with guns and revolvers by several white men. The house was set afire and Suddeth fled. He was shot but not fatally injured. He was taken to the water tank, a rope placed about his neck and was swung up. It was then decided, however, that to kill him would precipitate a general race war, and he was cut down, but the mob later prevailed.

Coweta is in a state of terror and it is feared that an outbreak is inevitable. There are 1,500 people in Coweta, one-third of whom are negroes. The county is populated largely by negroes, and it was said that if the blacks were organized they could bring 2,000 men into town.

BUFFALO STEAK ON PRESIDENT MENU

Reaches South Dakota After Indians Slaughter Animals.

Pierre, S. D., Oct. 23.—At the dinner given in his honor by Representative Burke, President Taft was served with buffalo steak from bison killed by Indians with bows and arrows. There is a herd of 300 buffalo on a ranch near Pierre and a moving picture company of Chicago rented the herd to secure a picture of a buffalo hunt. Indians from the Rosebud Indian reservation and cowboys were sent among the herd and two of the buffalo were killed by the Indians and dressed. It was this meat which the president ate. More of it was placed on the president's car.

Nearly every member of the president's party went up to the land office at Rapid City, S. D., and paid 25 cents for a chance in the land lottery. Winners receive 160 acres of land and conversation on board the Taft special sounded like a landlords' convention. Wisdom gained, however, shows that to get the land even after winning in the lottery requires a 14-month residence there and the payment of $5 an acre. That was a bad jolt to the comfortable spirit of proprietorship.

The president came nearer to enjoying a real rest than he has on any Sunday of this trip. With the exception of a speech on his arbitration treaties, delivered at the auditorium, he was free from public functions. In the morning he attended services at the Methodist church as the guest of Governor Vessey, who was also host to Mr. Taft at luncheon.

After his speech the president was taken for a 70-mile automobile ride over the South Dakota prairie.

Mr. Taft spent the night at the residence of Representative Burke and left this morning for his last day in South Dakota.

WILEY PRAISES WOMEN

Says In Combination With Sugar and Soap They Make Great Nation.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 23.—"If a country treats its women right and eats more sugar per head and consumes more soap per head than any other country, then it is the greatest nation," declared Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief of the government's chemistry bureau, in his address to the national American woman's suffrage convention. He had been introduced by Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the association, as "the man who is trying to give us a fair chance to live." He began by enumerating the things that make for a country's greatness, narrowing the text down to the three requisites named. By these tokens, he concluded, America is first.

PROFIT BY OTHERS' EXPERIENCE

Gray Hair Restored

My hair was getting quite gray and falling out rapidly and I was troubled with a terrible itching of the scalp. My head was full of dandruff, which fell upon my clothes and kept me continually brushing it off. While on a visit to Rochester I heard of your Sage and Sulphur for the hair. I got a bottle and used it. A few applications relieved the itching, my hair stopped falling out and gradually came back to its natural color. It is now a nice dark brown color, soft, glossy and pliable. Several of my friends want to use it, and I want to know what you will charge me for six bottles of it.

MISS E. A. ROSS, Sharon, Mercer Co., Pa.

Grow Hair on a Bald Head

For two or three years my hair had been falling out and getting quite thin until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four months ago I commenced using Sage and Sulphur. The first bottle seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is fairly covered and keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.

THE MYERS MEETING

The Sunday meeting for the purpose of boosting Joe Myers' candidacy for delegate to the constitutional convention, was a surprisingly small affair. It was a labor union meeting and although there are about 2100 staunch union men in this county, most of whom dwell in this city, yet there were less than one hundred at the Myers boosting meeting. This indicates that in spite of the strenuous campaign that has been put forth in his behalf, Myers does not hold any enthusiastic support of the union laboring men. No other construction may be placed upon the result. Nor did the speakers mention Myers by name although that gentleman was allowed five minutes for a brief address, to the exclusion of the two other candidates for delegate. Strong union labor men inform The Age that Myers is looked upon with disfavor by more union men than favor him. Whether this statement be broad of the fact or not will be attested at the November election. At all events the union vote is not going to be tied up in a package and delivered to Myers; that much is now plainly apparent.

BROWN'S PLATFORM

State Chairman Walter Brown has enunciated some excellent good sense in his platform as candidate for delegate to the constitutional convention. In the first place he favors a short ballot, and that is an excellent move. Our voting ballots are so long that few voters pay attention to anybody other than the head of each ticket, unless there is some special friend for whom he wishes to "scratch." Let us have the short ballot, with the minor offices appointive. Brown favors the initiative and referendum under certain restrictions, but does not want to monkey with the recall until we see how it works in the western states trying it. He stands for home rule in cities and therein lies the most important of all. We firmly believe in every community governing itself under broad general statutes. In that way each city will have laws that can be enforced and that will be enforced.

He gives an original idea when he favors voting to be compulsory, the same as payment of taxes. That's a good plan. A great many men denounce those whom they are pleased to call "politicians" when they themselves do not go to the polls and vote their own sentiments. Voting indeed should be made not only a duty but an obligatory one.

Brown's platform is an excellent one, and its publication in The Daily Age Saturday interested many people.

A SOLID DELEGATION FOR HARMON

Doubtless, the Ohio delegation to the approaching Democratic national convention will be for Harmon solidly—and briefly.

There is much talk—prattle is a better word—among the leaders who have suffered from the governor's ingratitude, of electing a majority of delegates unfavorable to him and then closing fame's door in his face by adopting the unite rule. They could do that, so unpopular has Harmon become. The gentlemen who are entitled to place in the big four at large are: John R. McLean, long producer of the "shews"; Harvey C. Garber, national committeeman; E. L. Hanley, state chairman and Atlee Pomerene, United States senator. The first three of the gentlemen named will not strain their backs to boost Harmon—unless it is to let him fall. That the governor can name the four delegates from his own town is not beyond a reasonable doubt for the Hanley-Garber-Finley machine made an alliance with the Peck-Noctor crowd to keep Lewis Bernard, Harmon's Cincinnati manager off the state committee. In the Dayton district Hanley will surely name the men. In the Bryan districts of the northwest Mr. Garber can control. In O'Dwyer's, Toledo delegates will be selected who hear their master's voice.

In the 13th district, honored by the residence of Thomas A. Dean, the Hanley organization will probably control. In Cleveland neither Baker, who is trying on Tom Johnson's mantle, nor Salen who taught him politics, is likely to favor men for delegates who will follow Harmon to the last ditch. In several eastern districts the Liberty League is likely to name delegates.

Therefore, the state organization has the power to win a fight for an anti-Harmon delegation. Will they do it? No. Why? It would not be good politics. It would split the party. Hanley, Finley and Garber are good politicians.

What, then will they do? They will shout for Harmon, elect as Harmon delegates men they can control and go to the convention with a favorite son to trade off.

Now, as surmises are coming easy let us have some more. In a convention which requires two-thirds to nominate a number of ballots is likely to be necessary. Champ Clark will be prominent as a candidate, if he does not let the southern colonels pass sectional bills. Wind-row Woolson, as he now writes it to catch the farm vote, will be a formidable candidate. Judson Harmon will be the candidate of Morgan and there will be several favorite sons. Mr. Bryan, the only great leader of the party now extant, will be there to throw his strength to the radical who leads in the first ballot and to offer himself as a compromise if the contest is long. Ohio's leaders will throw the Harmon delegation to the candidate making the best promises.

Two reasons, both good will cause them to desert Uncle Jud early although he is a minister's son and the namesake of a missionary. The reasons are: First, they don't like the man who betrayed them. Second, they think Morgan's candidate can't be elected.

This brings on more words. The expensive literary bureau Herman Ridder was running in the Wall-street-Harmon interest, is closed. A bureau drawer seems to have been opened for Woodrow Wilson—anyway large publicity money is being spent in advertising him. The unsent increment of the salary of a professor in a denominational college can't go very far in a national campaign. May be Wall street dispairs electing one of its own and has made a deal with Wilson who at this date is the leading candidate.

The melancholy days have come the saddest of the year, when in the Adirondacks they shoot guides instead of deer.

There is always a consolation that we can revise tariff any time we want to without the aid and consent of Canada.

The Principals in the Most Brutal Murder that Has Shocked the Nation in Years.

Reading from left to right are Miss Aris Linnell, the murdered choir singer, Miss Violet Edmonds the fiancée of the Rev. Richardson and below the Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson, now held for the murder of Miss Linnell. The arrest of the minister has caused a profound sensation in the wealthy suburb of Boston, Cambridge, where Mr. Richeson was the pastor of the Emmanuel Baptist church. The arrest of Richeson was precipitated by a druggist who communicated to the Boston police that the minister had bought a quantity of cyanide in his store "to kill a dog" as the minister explained. An autopsy on the body of Miss Linnell revealed the fact that her death was caused by taking a quantity of cyanide while in her room at the Young Woman's Christian Association in Boston, where she was staying while attending a conservatory of music. Her home was in Hyannis.

PROPER TREATMENT FOR CATARRH

The first thing to be done in the treatment of Catarrh is to begin the use of a medicine that will have a direct effect on the source of the disease; in no other way can any curative progress be made. S.S.S. does this more quickly and satisfactorily than any other medicine. It is the most penetrating of all blood purifiers, thoroughly, yet gently, expelling all catarrhal matter and impurities from the circulation, and by its fine tonic properties strengthening and building up the system in such healthy manner that it is enabled to overcome the depressing effects of Catarrh. Some local treatment is often desired to open the air passages of the head and nose and relieve the congestion and "tickling" of the throat, and other unpleasant symptoms. There are many helpful measures which may be resorted to, and there are others which may be harmful, and to aid Catarrh sufferers we have prepared a special treatise on the disease which will be of great value to any who suffer with this trouble. This book together with any medical advice free to all who write and request it. Take S.S.S. regularly and according to directions, and it will certainly remove the cause and cure your Catarrh. S.S.S. is sold at drug stores.

WHAT I WENT THROUGH

Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Natick, Mass.—"I cannot express what I went through during the change of life before I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in such a nervous condition I could not keep still. My limbs were cold, I had creepy sensations, and I could not sleep nights. I was finally told by two physicians that I also had a tumor. I read one day of the wonderful cures made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it, and it has made me a well woman. My neighbors and friends declare it had worked a miracle for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth its weight in gold for women during this period of life. If it will help others you may publish my letter."—MRS. NATHAN B. GREATON, 51 N. Main Street, Natick, Mass.

The Change of Life is the most critical period of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

Of Interest to Women

Meeting of Nellie W. C. T. U.
An enthusiastic meeting of Nellie W. C. T. U. was held at Nellie chapel Thursday evening. The leader was Miss Kate Darling. In addition to the usual number of white ribboners many of the students of the village high school attended and added much to the inspiration of the meeting by their respectful and close attention.

In carrying out a well planned program upon the subject, "Franchise," it was plain that up-to-date literature upon the subject was in hand. The music was better than usual. A solo by Mrs. Nellie Moore and the singing by the ladies' quartette called forth special praise.

After the close of the prepared program the leader requested members to give their reason for wanted to vote. Several short impromptu speeches were made.

Reasons that are sound, logical and convincing were given. One reason emphasized by some speakers was this: "If the women of our county had the right to vote, they would see to it that no doings at the county fair would be so tinged with immorality as to call forth condemnation from those who truly appreciate the educational value of the fair but become disgusted with its morals in some respects.

When the mothers of Coshocton county can vote they will not find their boys looking upon scenes on the fair grounds whose influence tend to corrupt their youthful minds and forever lower their standard of pure manhood and womanhood.

The W. C. T. U. will do her part in bringing about in Ohio a party like unto that of the great state of California. It was decided to give a temperance program on the evening of Nov. 12—the world's temperance Sunday.

JOHN ELS DIES AT CHILL HOME

Death Comes to Relieve Suffering of Noble Man Saturday

Funeral services over the remains of John Els who died Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at his home in Chill were held in the English Lutheran church at Chill Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Burial was made in the Chill cemetery.

About two weeks ago he became ill with the dead disease and from the first his condition was considered serious and little hope was entertained for his recovery. He was a faithful member of the Lutheran church and was possessed of those traits of character that endeared him to a wide circle of friends. He is survived by his wife and two sons.

SEWER QUESTION SETTLED TONIGHT? Business Man Puts Up Argument Why City Should Not Bear All Cost.

Tonight's session of the city council will probably settle upon the building of the much needed sewer for the South side, and according to plans that seem to be acceptable to the majority of the council the city will pay the major portion of the cost, putting the expense of the sewer from the city limits to the river, a cost of $5,200, on the general tax duplicate, and leaving the abutting property owners the balance of the $9000 estimated cost, to pay.

The district will probably be established as Sewer District No. 2, and the cost of the sewer be determined by abutting and contingent property served thereby. The plan is to make it a sanitary sewer with sufficient dimension to subsequently be also used for storm water.

"Just why some of the advocates who are in favor of having the city pay the whole cost of the sewer, should put in paving costs as a criterion, is beyond me," said a gentleman who is a heavy taxpayer and who favors the sewer. "Pavements are used by everybody that drives, but sewers are used by districts. I understand that Fourth street paving is quoted, showing that the city have a big brunt of the cost. The city did not. The Fourth street paving cost $29,000, and the city paid $11,302.01, largely because the city was a big property owner on the street. The city always pays for street intersections and in this case paid therefore $5745.60; for the library lot, $524.16; for the Syracuse school, $297.14 and the 25 per cent excess $494.51, a total of $11,302.01.

"Now the greater part of this district in which the new sewer is planned is south of Kentworth avenue. That district came into the corporation about five years ago, and the other sewers over town were all laid before that time, so none of their cost has come on the property owners. The town has been growing so that it ought to be divided into sewer districts, the precedent must be established. Sewers should be assessed according to benefit derived. It is right and just that the city should stand the expense from the city limits to the river on this new sewer. That is perfectly fair. Let the sewer be built by all means, for it is absolutely necessary."

Council will probably end the long discussion tonight by adopting some plan for the early building of the sewer.

VERY SMALL CROWD ATTENDS MASS MEET TO BOOST J.L. MYERS

Senator Greene and Thomas Talk

Myers Makes a Brief Address Setting Forth the Issues of Constitutional Convention Campaign — By Actual Count 96 Persons Attended the Meeting — Enthusiasm Was Lacking — Weather Man is Blamed.

According to an accurate count taken by a Coshocton man attending the mass meeting, held under the auspices of the Central Trades and Labor Council at the Sixth St. theatre Sunday afternoon for the purpose of enlightening the people of Coshocton on the initiative and referendum and the recall and mainly to endorse Joe L. Myers as the candidate to the constitutional convention, was attended by just 96 people. The weather man, who shut off the sun's rays from the face of the earth Sunday all day, is blamed for the lack of enthusiasm.

At 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon a few interested persons gathered at the theatre and took front seats in order to be sure of getting a good position in the house to hear all that went on. The meeting was to have been called at 2:30. When that hour rolled around the theatre looked bare and cold with the little knot of men that had collected. The meeting was not called to order on schedule time as it was thought that a larger crowd would gather.

As no one else came the meeting was called to order about 15 minutes after schedule time.

Senator Green, a Coshocton man, Secretary Harry Thomas of the Ohio Federation of Labor, and Joe L. Myers, candidate for delegate to the constitutional convention were the three speakers of the day.

Secretary Harry Thomas and Senator Green talked along the same lines. Both explained the initiative and referendum, and the recall in detail from their view points.

Secretary Thomas cannot be called an orator. But his theme was interesting and he held his small audience for nearly an hour while he went into detail on the issues of the coming election of delegates to the constitutional convention. He drafted a nice definition of the initiative and referendum and the recall. He told what it meant and what it would accomplish. To enforce many of his points, Mr. Thomas gave many homely illustrations. In praising the passing of the employer's liability law at the last session of the legislature he said that ten cases of damage suits carried up from lower courts in which the plaintiff's had suffered bodily injury through carelessness in workshops and factories, only one was decided in favor of the plaintiff and in that case the plaintiff was the daughter of a railroad president.

Mr. Thomas' address was, on the whole, radical and extreme; but his talk was thoroughly appreciated by the few who heard it and his remarks found many a good resting place.

Senator Green's power as a speaker is well known in Coshocton but probably no Coshocton audience ever heard him when he was in the form he was Sunday afternoon. His address was rousing, stirring, and full of interest. Throughout the time he was on the stage he held every one in the audience in rapt attention. He spoke fearlessly and straight to the point and showed that every word he uttered was a sincere one.

Senator Green used in a measure the same theme that was used by Mr. Thomas in his address but he dressed it in far different style and brought out many points that were not touched on by Thomas. He said that the people should be tremendously careful in choosing their delegate to the constitutional convention. He said that too many times the man made the biggest promises and when afterwards elected to the legislature went to the capital and forgot his promises. Some hot shoes were handed out during his argument. He favored, and seemed who he did not by a foreword argument, the horse rule for cities, the initiative and referendum, and the recall. When he had finished he was showered with congratulations from his many Coshocton friends.

James Stewart took the center of the stage after Mr. Green had finished, and with a few appropriate remarks, introduced Joe L. Myers, in whose honor the occasion was held. Mr. Myers seemed a little nervous at first. He shocked his audience by a little bit of "blarney" when he said "This is the first time I have ever addressed an intelligent audience." He said that he was used to making addresses in the county, but he always felt at home there, having been born and raised on the farm. He touched lightly on his past and then launched on his real theme which lasted about five minutes.

He said there are two kinds of plat-

Marie Sanger as Christine Ludolph and William Winterhoff as Dennis Fleet in "Barriers Burned Away."

The Theatre

"Barriers Burned Away."

When in the early seventies Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicked over the lamp in her barn on West Twelfth street, in Chicago, the cow little dreamed she was making a name in the world for herself and the lady who was doing the milking. For thus does his story tell us that the great Chicago fire was started.

From this theme of this fire, E. P. Roe, the Presbyterian minister, novelist, constructed his story "Barriers Burned Away," which proved the largest selling and most widely read novel of the age, it being estimated that over one million copies of the novel were sold and over three million people have read it.

Messrs. Gilson & Bradford have had this wonderful story put in play form, and the dramatization which is by George Middleton bids fair to prove even more popular than the book. Manager Nottingham has arranged for the appearance of this play at the Sixth St. theatre Oct. 26.

'Tis almost needless to say it contains a deep moral lesson besides an interesting story for the dramatist has endeavored and is said to have succeeded in retaining all that was beautiful and best in Mr. Roe's book. "Barriers Burned Away" is said to be easily proving the success of the present season, it being one of those plays that appeals to the non-theatre-goer as well as those who go simply for their love of the god Thespis.

Earle Stock Co.

Sparkling with comedy "When We Were Friends" was presented at the Union opera house, Friday night before a capacity house. It was the first time the bill was ever played in this city, and it is worthy to be called a high priced attraction. The costuming was perfect and elaborate in many cases, and the settings were gorgeous. While the play contained a story of heart interest, comedy predominated and was ably handled by Billy Bretz, and Edward Ernst. Their work kept the audience convulsed in laughter half of the time. Miss Bessie Jackson was as dainty and sweet as ever, and wore a number of magnificent gowns.—New Phila Times.

The Earl-Stock company is booked to appear here at an early date.

T. J. Rittenhouse Sold Acres of Land Which Raised Products Shown In Ag. Train

It is of interest to the old friends and neighbors of T. J. Rittenhouse, formerly of Coshocton, to know that he sold many acres of the land that will be represented here next Wednesday when the Arkansas special train stops here.

The Age received the following letter from Mr. Rittenhouse Monday morning:

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 20, 1911. Dear Sir—I notice by The Age that there will be a train loaded with the products of Arkansas lands in Coshocton on the 25th inst. It may be of interest to you and my other friends in Coshocton and Coshocton county to know that some of the products that will be shown and talked about, were raised on the 17,000 acres of land near Gifford, Ark. which I bought and sold to the parties, who are now colonizing it and selling it in small tracts. I believe, I can truthfully say that prices and everything considered, that this is one of the best homeseekers' location in the state.

The climate of central Arkansas is too well known to be mentioned now; crop failures are unknown.

With best wishes for you and your success, I am

Yours,
T. J. Rittenhouse.
